RoadSmart

June 2020

In line with recommendations from the Government and IAM Roadsmart all activity within the group is still postponed until further notice. There is no observing or meeting with associates to ride or drive at present. We are expecting an update from head office in the not too distant future, with a plan of action for when observing will restart.

Updates can be found on the SAM social media platforms.

Welcome to new associate Brian Quinn, thank you for joining the Motorcycle section in these challenging times.

Chief Motorcycle observer Brian Dring held a virtual Q and A session with the current intake of associates last week. They were brought up to date with any news.

Your SAM Committee are still very active behind the scenes. The monthly meeting for May was again held on the virtual app called Zoom. There are a couple of vacancies on the group committee, so if you feel you could contribute, have suggestions on how SAM can move forward, help people become better drivers and riders, we would like to hear from you.

Even though we are not driving and riding at present, the group are still promoting the taster sessions. Anyone who is interested in these, should forward their details to us, so we can arrange for a ride or drive taster. These are free and can save the driver/rider 10% of the price of full course.

Where associates' membership for the main IAM/Roadsmart expires, during this shut down period, their membership will be extended, at no additional cost, for up to a further six months which should enable all associates to complete their coaching and take their test without disadvantage. Any associates, who have concerns, should contact the customer care team by emailing support@iam.org.uk
